The Republic of Niue is one of them. It is a self-governing nation on a small group of islands in the South Pacific. Niue has just over 3,000 inhabitants. It is the southernmost nation of any size in the world, just over 10,000 kilometers from Hawaii.

Niue has a population of just over 3,000 people. It has an area of just over 35 km. The population is divided between the town of Alofi and the village of Onua. “Niue, the little island with a big heart” as one New Zealander described it. Niue is an independent country with a fragile economy. The island is dependent on a single source of income: tourism. It is no surprise that the economy of the people is more fragile. The island’s first president, Prince Edouardo Ma’atu, is a billionaire. Niue has been through rough times. It was invaded by the Japanese during the Second World War. This resulted in an invasion by American forces in the 1970s. Niue was then independent from New Zealand, having been so since 1974. Pictures of Niue Niue is covered in a number of beaches and tropical landscapes. New Zealand has two resorts on Niue. One is on the island’s main island and the other is on the northern island. Living in Niue is cheap, with no minimum wage or taxes. The standard of living is also far better than most people in New Zealand. The cost of living is well below the national average. There is a variety of interesting things to see on Niue. The island has a number of historic sites. It has a number of villages. There is a museum in Alofi. There is a traditional meeting house in Alofi and a meeting house in Onua. Getting to 648931e174
